HIGH SCHOOL SKATING PARTY CREATES FUN

The Hard Time Skating party put on by the local high school on Friday night turned out to be one of the better meetings the group have had this year.

Prizes for best costumes went to Bonnie Clarke and Miller McCoy but we have no report on who won the clown contest. A rough guess would put Lyle Ford well up in the contest.

Launch and dancing at the school followed the program at the arena.

BEFORE IT TALKS

Time is a vital factor in cancer cure. The Canadian Cancer Society says that in its early stages, before it "talks," cancer is highly curable. Periodic physical examinations are urged as the best cancer insurance.

It Couldn't Happen Here

Rumors are circulating in authoritative circles that ex-premier Malenkov was executed in Moscow last Thursday. The report was said to have arrived here "through diplomatic channels" by way of New Delhi.

Malenkov was not present at the final session of the Supreme Soviet of the Russian federation in the Kremlin Saturday. Maxim Saburov, a first deputy premier, was the only other presidium member absent.

"Seems like we have lots of beefs with our provincial and federal governments lots of times, but we have not got the authority to exterminate those in disfavor. Also seems like if we lived in Russia that chore would also be disallowed as far as the menials were concerned. As a member of the writer, we thought we had troubles; not after reading what they do to one of the head men in the Russian end of the world."

Many people from the district attended the "stew supper" Friday night and everyone agrees it was good, even to the stew.

We hear Bill McCormick was a recent visitor to Calgary. He went down to see Tom and Rita's new daughter.

Ervin Mills had a birthday party Sunday afternoon with several children and four ladies present. There was a cake for Brian Moore and Terry Haug also, whose birthdays are close together. They are all four years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Moore had supper with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mills Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Loughheed have moved home to their own farm, while Mr. and Mrs. Wahi have moved to the Wideman farm. Mr. Wahi had a near accident while moving some grain and furniture. His truck overturned on the road, north of Bergen, and when it came to a halt its nose was pointed over the bank towards the river. It was too close for comfort.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Loughheed visited with Mr. and Mrs. Reg Admussen last Sunday.

Mrs. George Admussen and Mrs. Joe Kynel, Ricky and David, were Calgary visitors recently.

We are sorry to hear Mrs. Tedford has not been well and wish her a speedy recovery.

A Stanley tea is to be held at Mrs. Ross Ellis' on Wednesday evening.

MOUNTAIN VIEW

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Konut and family were the latter's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Spink, of Lacombe.

Sunday dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Hall and family were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shultz and family and Mr. and Mrs. Milo Stearns and family, the occasion being Lorrie Stearns' second birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCall and Mr. and Mrs. MacFrazier and Kenneth were Sunday supper guests with Mr. and Mrs. Grenville McCall and family.

Mr. Arthur Gebers and Mr. A. L. Hansen of Aldridge motored to Edmonton on Monday and returned Tuesday.

What is your hobby? On Sunday evening, March 27, the members of Redeemer Lutheran Church discovered that their fellow-members have some very interesting hobbies. The occasion was the monthly fellowship supper inaugurated a short time ago. Once a month the members meet in the church basement for a pot-luck supper. Following the meal the group enjoys a social visit and also a short program. Last Sunday four members of the congregation spoke on their hobbies, and also showed some of the items they collect.

The first speaker was Mr. Arnold Bode, who collects rifles, shells and sundry items. He showed 12 of his 30 rifles, some dating back over 250 years. He also showed various shells of which he has over 1,000.

The second speaker was Miss Alvin Jans, who showed the group a number of her salt and pepper collection. Although Miss Jans began this hobby only recently, she has a large and varied collection. A number of those present also have this as a hobby.

Mr. Henry Folkmann came in with his arms loaded with stones, rocks, petrified wood, a petrified clam and an assortment of Indian arrow heads. Mr. and Mrs. Folkmann have put this hobby to good use, as many in the Didsbury district know. Their home is enhanced by a beautiful fireplace built from rocks that they have collected in their travels in the United States and Canada.

Finally for the entertainment of the young folk and the elders as well, Mr. Elmer Pieper kept the audience enthralled by his sleight-of-hand tricks. His hobby is performing acts of magic.

Time did not permit a number of others present to display and speak on their hobbies, amongst them stamp collecting, collecting of quills and many others. Well over 80 members were in attendance.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

How spiritual understanding of God brings freedom from the fullness
of materialism will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "UN-REALITY" at Christian Science services Sunday. Selections to read from the King James Version of the Bible will include the following from Jeremiah (23): "Thus saith the Lord. What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become vain?"

From "Science and Health with Key
to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be among those read: "The perfect
Mind sends forth perfection, for God is Mind. Imperfect mortal mind sends forth its own resemblances, of which the wise man said,
"All is vanity" (239:29). The Golden Text is also from Jeremiah (4:14):
"O Jerusalem, wash thine heart
from wickedness, that thou mayest
be saved. How long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee?"

"Old Black Joe."

Roll call was a penny for each inch of your waist.

Pictures will be framed at the next meeting.

The bit of fun was drawing a picture of the person on the right side of you.

The tea draw was won by Mrs.
Arnold Blain.

Viola McNaughton gave an interesting talk on insects.

The meeting closed with God Save

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

How spiritual understanding of God brings freedom from the fullness
of materialism will be brought out
in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "UN-REALITY" at Christian Science services Sunday. Selections to read

from the King James Version of the Bible will include the following from Jeremiah (23): "Thus saith the Lord. What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone
far from me, and have walked after
vanity, and are become vain?"

From "Science and Health with Key
to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker
Eddy the following passage will be among those read: "The perfect
Mind sends forth perfection, for God is Mind. Imperfect mortal
mind sends forth its own resem-
blances, of which the wise man said,
"All is vanity" (239:29). The Golden Text is also from Jeremiah (4:14):
"O Jerusalem, wash thine heart
from wickedness, that thou mayest
be saved. How long shall thy vain
thoughts lodge within thee?"

Action For Curlers This Year

Although the delegation to Regina of the Central Alberta Curling Association failed to obtain an open hearing at the annual meeting of the Dominion Curling Association, they did get a promise that their case would be considered next year. In addition, executives from the northern and southern sections of the province were told to work toward the aims of the central group. Delegates from the Central group were Marshall Lees of Red Deer and Fred Stewart of Lacombe, president and vice-president. Attending from the south were Alec Watson and A. Wilson with Shm Laskin and William Allen from Edmonton.

Central Alberta delegates are pressing for more satisfactory recognition of the Central Alberta Curlers in governing arrangements and Consols playdowns. They are also asking representation on the Alberta bodies and

Chrysler Names Appointees

W. E. Hull has been appointed regional sales manager for the Chrysler-Plymouth-Fargo Division of the Chrysler Corporation, Canada, Limited, covering Alberta and that part of British Columbia east of the Rockies. He will make his headquarters in Red Deer, Alta. The appointment is announced by John C. McGuire, general sales manager of that division of the corporation.

Mr. Hull brings to his new assignment a very broad experience covering several aspects of the automotive industry.

Two years ago he became assistant regional manager for the Toronto sales region, after seven years in that territory as a district manager and as sales representative.

He joined Chrysler of Canada in 1935 and for several years was engaged in advertising, sales promotion and merchandising activities at the Corporation's Windsor headquarters.

Born in Taber, Alta., Mr. Hull attended school there and in Windsor and subsequently completed special studies in business administration, sales and advertising. During World War II he served four years with the R.C.A.F. both in Canada and overseas.

that the whole of Alberta be organized as one curling unit.

The resolution from the affiliation committee of the Dominion Association, headed by Senator John T. Haig of Winnipeg, stated:

"That action in respect to this (Central Alberta's) application had been fully considered and that it recommended that action be deferred for one year during which time it was hoped and expected that various associations in Alberta would, in the meantime, amicably settle the matters complained of by the Central Association."

"It is understood that falling such settlement during the coming year, action on such application would have to be taken at the 1956 annual meeting."

Handicap !!

A man who was out in the woods hunting was amazed to see a nude girl flash past him. Two men in white coats followed closely behind. A third man, also wearing a white coat, brought up the rear carrying a bucket of sand.

"Hey, what's going on here?" inquired the hunter of the man with the bucket.

"This girl escaped from the asylum, and we've got to catch her." came the answer from the man, who continued to run.

"Then what's the sand for?" pursued the hunter.

"Well, this is my handicap. I caught her yesterday."

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Parents around the world will learn next month what doctors have found out about the Salk polio vaccine.

Evaluators are near the end of their job of translating into cold statistics the test results compiled from a study of 2,000,000 school children.

The answer will be ready some time in April. Doctors will announce then whether the Salk vaccine is an answer to poliomyelitis—whether it is a partial preventative or none at all.

For almost a year, in an old brick building on the University of Michigan campus, doctors and statisticians have been at work.

TWO MILLION STUDIED

Of 2,000,000 grade school children in the United States, Canada and Finland, only 440,000 received the Salk vaccine. Another 210,000 got a harmless control substance. The rest got no injections of any kind, but were studied as a control group.

It was the largest test of its kind ever performed. It was fashioned to prove what doctors had observed in the test tube.

Since these children were placed under observation, the Polio Vaccine Evaluation Centre, under Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr., has kept a careful eye on their medical histories.

When some of them did contract polio, specimens were analyzed, medical reports were written and their progress was studied.

GUARD INFORMATION

At no time in the history of the test was it known publicly which child was given the vaccine and which was not. That information was guarded in the card file at the centre.

Here, in an elaborate code of punches and notations, were the answers to the value of the Salk vaccine. Now they are ready to be fed into giant tabulators to get a human answer in mathematical terms.

Dr. Francis, chairman of epidemiology (the study of the behavior of disease) at the University of Michigan, has the reputation among his fellow workers for painstaking careful research.

As in the development of the vaccine, the money for the evaluation has come from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis but it has been given directly to the University of Michigan, so that the evaluation and the report will be independent and fair.

It is for this reason, among others, that Dr. Francis has set up his security code—to provide a completely controlled evaluation.

LIMITED PROOF

Dr. Jonas Salk of the University of Pittsburgh, who developed the vaccine, had already proved in limited immunization tests and in the laboratory that the vaccine produces antibodies.

The mass test was to determine whether the vaccine would produce enough resistance to the disease to prevent it, and whether it would cope with all known polio viruses.

Dr. Salk who studied under Dr. Francis at Michigan developed the vaccine after three American doctors had succeeded in isolating the polio virus in a test tube.

Those three, Dr. John Enders and Thomas Weller of Harvard University and Frederick Robbins of Western Reserve University, Cleveland, won a Nobel prize for the first step in the prevention of polio.

Scientists hope that next month will mark another achievement in the fight to control polio.

Compensation For Farmers . . .

Farming, being smaller-scaled and more individualistic than most other industries, hasn't lent itself to such government control as unemployment insurance and workmen's compensation. But the Saskatchewan government is wondering if a system of workmen's compensation couldn't be adapted to agriculture.

In every province most industries are compelled to participate. They pay into a fund according to a schedule of fees, and compensation for any industrial accident or disability is paid out of the fund. Although this might be construed as socialistic, there is little if any objection to it. It gives labor a measure of protection it otherwise would not consistently enjoy.

Farming is more hazardous than most occupations protected by workmen's compensation. The difficulty of assessing fees and enforcing safety standards is probably the main reason why it has been exempted from the compensation regulations.

But perhaps that difficulty has been exaggerated. Saskatchewan's labor minister suggests that a levy could be made on grain, livestock and certain other farm products, and compensation financed out of that revenue. Even a small fraction of a cent on each bushel of wheat would pay reasonable compensation for most accidents incurred raising wheat.

Or an arbitrary figure of say $100 a month could be placed on all farm labor including that of the farmer himself, and a small levy could be made on that.

It is made plain that the farmers through their organizations must explore and organize such a project. Actually there may be little demand for it. But if the demand does exist and proper sponsorship is found, the government will lend its assistance.

This is something for farmers everywhere to think about.

We have observed that workmen's compensation in industry has an incidental effect even more important than that of paying out money for accidents.

It used to be feared by some people that a workman, knowing he would not have to endure personally and alone all the financial consequences of an accident, would be more careless. That is not true. Nobody wants to lose a finger or a leg or risk his life no matter how much he would be paid for it.

On the contrary, the safety education that naturally goes with workmen's compensation has cut

Notes From D.A.

By HOWARD J. FULCHER

There is a danger of poisoning while treating seed when the proper care is not taken. There has been tragedies, farmers have lost their life, this fact emphasizes the need of extra care when toxic materials are being used. Most of the materials used in treating seed contain mercury, mercury dust and fumes are dangerous.

This danger is not to great and when proper precautions are taken the seed can be treated to help insure a healthy crop without undue dangers to the persons doing the treating. On the packages that you receive the treating material in you will find the word "poison" also instructions and precautions to be taken. If these are followed there will be no ill effects. The ill effects are cumulative and sooner or later, if you take chances the result of carelessness may catch up with you.

The following rules should be followed:

1. Avoid contact with skin or eyes.
2. Use a dust filter, and fume mask.
3. If indoors provide thorough ventilation.
4. In case of contact, wash immediately with soap and water, if eyes flush with water, and get medical attention.
5. Keep packages tightly closed when not in use.
6. Mark treated seed "poisonous."

If any of the material is swallowed cause vomiting with a mixture of salt, soap or mustard with warm water, then give as much white of egg, milk, gruel or flour in water as the patient can swallow.

Two Indians watched the building of a lighthouse. When it was finally completed they sat and watched it every night. A thick fog came rolling in one night and the siren blew continuously.

"Ugh," grunted one Indian to the other. "Light shine—bell ring—horn blow—but fog come in just the same."

down the accident rate very materially.

Although farmers are being taught safety on a far greater scale than ever before, they still have much to learn. A well-organized and supervised compensation system might be able to reduce the unnecessarily high farm accident rate.

Through The Study Window

By REV. C. C. ARMSTRONG

In a letter from the coast a correspondent said that she was "glad that crop prospects were improved in the district." This was welcome news to me, but the reasons for her making it were somewhat out of season and not yet justified by the weatherman. One can only hope that what she has said will prove true.

But whether or not crop prospects have improved, we are aware that the land in which we live is blessed more abundantly than many other areas in the world. Hail and frost, famine and war have passed us by. No hurricanes have blown down our homes and no earthquakes shaken a troubled earth.

In the churches in this land, there are some which are classified as "aid receiving." In order to assist them maintain the church in their district, they receive help from the mission. One can only hope that what she has said will prove true.

The difficulty with this view is two-fold. First of all, those with the missionary outlook are also aware of the needs at home and to make appeals for missions only quickens the awareness of the value of the church on the local scene. Many aid receiving churches owe their dependency to the fact that they are not sufficiently minded of the fact that by abandoning the missionary cause or holding it in abeyance, they are really denying their own claim to existence. All church work is the result of missionary causes, and if the Christian faith were not a missionary one, there would be no Christian church at all in existence anywhere.

The second difficulty with this atitude of "self-support first" or "charity begins at home" is that it would deny to people the privilege of participating with others throughout the church in any church-wide plan to meet the desperate need that exists in many areas. During the leaner season special offerings will be given for relief work among refugees, little children, orphans, widows and others, all homeless, destitute and in tragic need. They are to be found in Europe, Palestine, Korea and Indo-China. In Europe the most needy to be helped are to be those in Greek villages devastated by repeated earthquakes; refugees from Eastern Europe now resident in France, and help for the Waldensian Church in Italy.

None of these areas of need should be neglected. Help given to them is not the result of inadequate support given to the local churches of this land, but is the best way to achieve true spiritual greatness. "A great church is one that gives twice as much for missions as it gives to meet adequately its own needs."

DEPARTMENT
HIGHWAYS

Building and improving Alberta's roads and highways is the special field of public responsibility assigned the Alberta Highways Department.

Its authority extends along 85,000 miles of highways and roads, a system that is being extended and improved each year. This network of roads whose total length is more than three times the earth's diameter, demands the expenditure of large sums of money for traveling, hard surfacing, bridging, widening, and general maintenance. Highways expenditure is such an important part of government spending in Alberta that almost 28 percent of the 1954-1955 budget was allocated for this purpose.

The Department of Highways consists of seven branches: Surveys, Maintenance, Location, Construction, Bridge, Accounting, and Motor Vehicles.

The Location Branch of the Department of Highways selects the locations of new highways and roads while the Surveys Branch surveys the completed location of highways and all roads in Improvement Districts. The Surveys Branch looks after all government owned land in the Province and administers all acts related to provincial land. The Director of Surveys approves all plans for survey work in Alberta and administers the Pipe Line Act.

Actual construction of highways is under the control of the Construction Branch. This branch stakes out highway locations, purchases gravel, and does all the cross sectioning, levelling and other work entailed in building a highway.

The Bridge Branch of the Department of Highways builds all highway bridges. Its engineers have been busy during recent years on an expanded program of bridge building.
Many bridges that have become inadequate for modern traffic conditions are being replaced with wide, strong and graceful modern bridges. Bridge design is carried out by the branch but construction is distributed between private contractors, working under the branch's supervision, and the branch's own bridge building crews.

Costs of each type of highway, bridge and ferry are assembled by the Accounting Branch while the Maintenance Branch maintains all main highways, awards grants to municipal districts and improvement districts for road work, and supervises all work done under these grants. Municipal governments now receive approximately $5,000,000 a year in road grants.

The Motor Vehicles Branch
contains the Highway Traffic Board and the former Motor Vehicles Branch, until recently a part of the Provincial Secretary's Department. All truck and car licences, drivers' test, passenger car safety tests, accidents and financial responsibilities, and other duties associated with the use of roads and highways by the public, come under its attention. The Highway Traffic Board controls truck and bus traffic and imposes road bans during the spring periods when roads are most prone to damage.

Take Your Pick!

"Patrick," said the priest, "whiskey is your worst enemy."
"But father," said Pat, "wasn't it only last Sunday you was telling us to love our enemies?"

"It was," said the priest, "but did I say anything about swallowing them?"

Neighbor: "Where is your brother, Freddie?"
Freddie: "He's in the house playing a duel. I finished first."

The tourist stopped off at the Fridian reservation. Declining to make friends with the Red Man, he held a passing brave and said: "White man glad to see red man. White man hope big chief feel fine this morning."

The Indian stared, then yelled:
"Hey, Joe come here! This guy is terrific!"

Policeman: Have you any explanation for wandering about at this time of night?"
Reverend: "Look here, if I had an explanation I'd have gone home to the wife hours ago!"

On the first day of school the teacher explained that if anyone had to go to the washroom, he should hold up two fingers. One puzzled little boy plaintively asked:
"How's that going to help?"

"Mama, can I go in swimming?"
"No dear, the water's dangerous here."
"But Daddy's swimming."
"Yes, dear, but Daddy's insured."

CREMONA W. L. TO SUPPORT CANCER CRUSADE

The regular meeting of Cremona
W. L. was held at the home of Mrs.
Kenneth Borsen 88, with seven members and one new member, Mrs.
Stanley Schultz, in attendance.

It was decided to have the district home economist bring a demonstration called The Fabric Counter to the June meeting at the home of Mrs. Glen Johnston.

The Cancer Crusade in April will be supported by placing collection jars in all places of business, rather than a door-to-door canvass.
Roll call was answered by the name of a favorite Irish song. Mrs. May Sr. gave an interesting paper on Ireland. A bit of fun was enjoyed when members exchanged Irish jokes.

Bill Ross Gets New Post

Mr. W. E. Ross, Director of Public Relations and Advertising, Calgary Power Ltd., Calgary, was elected president of the Electric Service League of Alberta recently at the annual meeting of the directors.

Mr. Ross has been associated with Calgary Power for the past 25 years as former manager of the Prairie Power Company in Regina, and also General Superintendent of the Newfoundland Light and Power Company at St. John's, Newfoundland. He has had considerable experience in all phases of the electric utility business.

Mr. Ross stated that the Electric Service League of Alberta was formed in the interests of the general public. The aims and objectives of the League are to promote adequate wiring in homes and commercial establishments. Electrical wiring is just coming into its own and each year new appliances to assist the housewife in making the operations of the home more efficient and pleasant are being invented. Homes wired to "Red Seal" specifications advocated by the Electric Service League required to serve all the appliances the home owner has now and may expect to get in the future.

Mr. Ross will be recalled by many residents of Olds, having been the District Manager for Calgary Power Ltd. from 1931 to 1935. During those years he was a member of the Olds Elks Hockey Team.

Are You Worried? In The Legislature

By DONALD F. SMITH

We read much today about the fear of disease. On the one hand we are assailed by admonitions to heed symptoms, transient pains, fleeting aches, feelings of uneasiness, and the like, and to take proper steps to avoid serious consequences.

On the other hand, psychologists tell us that many of our ills are, in a way, figments of our imagination. Sometimes, it is true, a constant pre-occupation with one's physical condition results in what we know as hypochondria unwarranted fear of disease.

No doubt the public occasionally is confused by these apparently opposite viewpoints of medical authorities. A reader of a medical column one day may find himself persuaded to have a physical examination. Next day another writer tells him that 95% of all his cure themselves and at most sickness is not of the flesh but of the fancy.

What should a thoughtful person conclude? Take, for instance, the programme of the Canadian Cancer Society, which is aimed at early diagnosis of a disease that usually can be cured only in the early stages. The Society's factors are aware of the possibility of an over-avid concern about cancer's early danger signs might result in the exaggerated fear of that disease which psychologists call "cancerphobia." They know, however, that persons who develop an unnatural fear of cancer have other fears as well. If the source of their anxiety had not been this disease, it most likely would have been some other ailment, or condition, or object. It might even be dogs or cats, or high places, or the dark.

The Canadian Cancer Society's early warning programme is a calculated risk. Balanced on one side is the chance that some sensitive and introspective persons will be worried unduly. On the other side of the scales in 1955 are the lives of some 8,000 Canadians. This number represents persons whom medical authorities believe die of cancer needlessly each year. They are the ones whose lives could have been spared had they heeded the early warning message of the Cancer Society and sought proper treatment in time.

With this great weight of human lives in the balance, can anyone wonder by the scales have been tipped in the direction of a dynamic nationwide programme to alert people about cancer?

We can't all be calm and dispassionate, but most of us have enough self-discipline to give thoughtful regard to this question. When the occasion arises and you are worried about your physical condition, isn't the sensible solution simply see your doctor?

And see him once a year anyway, no matter how good you feel. Worry a bit about yourself once in a while. In small doses it's good for you.

EDMONTON — The seriousness with which the Alberta government views the collapse of negotiations between the federal government and Trans-Canada Pipe Line Ltd. on the financing of a natural gas pipeline from Alberta to the east was evident in the legislature last week.

It was expressed by Premier Manning during a long debate which saw spokesmen for Liberal, C.C.F. and Progressive Conservative parties stating their views and though no conclusion resulted, the upshot was an announcement that the cabinet is considering adjourning the house when its current business is ended.

This would be instead of prorogation and would allow the government to call a quick sitting after talks with the federal government, the pipeline company and gas producers.

Mr. Manning's statement was: "The collapse of the negotiations is extremely serious to Alberta and, to a lesser extent, to the whole of Canada. The responsibility of Alberta is to see to it, in the light of these happenings, that we do whatever is the best and most constructive to resolve the problem which confronts us at the earliest possible date, and in the best interests of Alberta and Canada."

C.C.F. leader Elmer E. Roper contended an American oil company, which would be the largest single supplier of Alberta gas to the Trans-Canada line, caused the failure of the Ottawa negotiations.

After the federal government refused to guarantee payment of interest on the company's bonds in the early years of development, the government Bank of Canada offered to put up money, if the company would allow the bank to purchase $5 million worth of common shares and $60 million worth of debentures which could be converted into common stock.

Trans-Canada turned down the offer not because it was not prepared to accept it, Mr. Roper claimed, but because the American company refused to supply gas to a company over which the Canadian government might exercise some control.

That an American company refuse to supply Canadian gas for another part of Canada was outrageous to the C.C.F. leadership and further indication Canada is becoming an economic colony of the U.S. With control over its own natural resources, he maintained, it is up to Alberta to tell the American company "where to get off." If it is not prepared to deliver gas on the terms Ottawa asks to protect Canadian taxpayers, it should let the government do it, he said.

Mr. Manning said he and Trans-Canada officials had checked and could find no producer who opposed to the government's requiring security for guaranteeing the bonds but, he added, the bank's proposal went further. In effect, he said, the federal government would be coming in the back door to control the line by virtue of the vast amount of voting stock the bank would have.

If the government wants control, let them be frank about it, said the premier. If the producers know whether the company is a private or a crown corporation they would be prepared to deliver gas to the line but they would not, if the status of the company is confused.

Formerly, according to Premier Manning, is that the producers in Alberta obtain an immediate market for the vast gas reserves. J. Harper Prowse, Liberal leader of the opposition, took a less hurried view.

The far-larger gas reserves of Texas, he maintained, are tied up in long-range contracts that will see that state importing gas from beyond its boundaries in 10 years, while still exporting its own to other areas. He defended the federal government's demand that the eastern line follow an all-Canadian route, stating gas would help develop the vast undeveloped regions through which it will pass.

He opposed shipping to the U.S. which he said is running short of gas, because it would be used by industries competing with Canadian industry.

Red Deer Progressive-Conservative W. J. C. Kirby said the main thing is to find immediate markets for producers who have invested hundreds of millions of dollars in the province.

PROGRESS FORSTALLED

"I'm going put some manure on the field," the farmer said to his wife.

After he left the room his daughter just back from finishing school complained to her mother. "Why don't you teach dad to say 'fertilizer' instead of that horrid word manure?"

"Heavens, no!" exclaimed the mother. "I'm letting wait enough alone. It took me 25 years to teach him to say 'manure'."

Why not tax the man who lets his property go to wreck, rather than the man who keeps his property in good condition? As it is at present, the man who employs the painter and the carpenter to make his place of residence more attractive and who thus improves the appearance of the whole neighborhood is penalized by increased taxation, while the man who allows his property to become an eyesore, and thus decrease the value of his neighbor's property, is encouraged in his neglect by reduced taxation. The slightest change in appearance of a property even to the extent of a storm porch, never fails to catch the eagle eye of the assessor, who incidentally, is employed and paid by the assessment commission in Regina—not by the town.

How prices in the United States are reported to be at their lowest level since 1946.

Donate To TB

The Alberta Tuberculosis Association announces receipt of a contribution of $1,000 from the Alberta Civil Service Welfare Fund. This fund is created as a result of donations made by all provincial government employees and will be utilized by the TB Association on behalf of their work on a provincial basis to aid financing the cost of additional X-ray units in hospitals for the X-ray of all admissions, organizing mass surveys through the mobile units owned by the Association and operated by the provincial Department of health, rehabilitation of TB patients, etc. The itinerary of the mobile unit for the 1955 season is now being arranged by the director of the tuberculosis division, and during the spring season will conduct surveys in areas of the south including Coalville, Pincher Creek and the Crow's Nest Pass. Later surveys will be conducted on the Tofield-Chauvin line in the north. Tentative plans are being laid to conduct a survey this year in the far northeast section of the province. It is in areas such as this where hospital and medical services are not so readily available that higher rates of TB incidence are found, and visits of the mobile unit are most productive in searching out undiagnosed tuberculosis.
